Susan McLeary is the owner and chief designer of Passionflower in Ann Arbor, MI. A Certified Florist with eight-plus years of design experience, she credits the inspired work of florists like Livia Cetti, Matthew Robbins, Remco Van Vliet and Christian Tortu as influencing her own design aesthetic.

To Noosheen, there is no standard format. There is no stereotypical style to her incredible designs. Her creations are unique and specifically designed for the client as well as the location. Like a flower, each design, event and bouquet are original. With a love for change, nature's inconsistencies and individuality, Noosheen seems to enter your imagination and conceives what you were feeling.

A small town guy with big town style Jeffery a freelance floral design artist has an eye for flair and a zest for the unexpected. For over 20 years Jeffery has been designing flowers for weddings and special events all over the country.

From his first foray into planning weddings and events in 1985, Wayne recognized that brides and others needed a knowledgeable and reliable source to ease the stress associated with the process. From that, he formed his first event business, InOvations—a successful and inspired company recognized for its innovations worthy of ovations. Today, Moments by Wayne Gurnick is the updated brand with the same set of values and service. With a passion for design, a sensitive eye for detail, and a calm and organized demeanor, Wayne works closely with those planning an event or celebration to help them realize their vision.

Creative director of Tic-Tock Couture Florals Eddie Zaratsian's reputation of impeccable taste and ability to manifest visually stunning events is well deserved. With over 20 years experience Eddie has created a unique and lasting trust which ranks him and Tic-Tock at the top of any list of florists in Los Angeles.

Brad always enjoyed working with plants and grew up working weekends on his grandfather's farm. In his late teens, Brad was hired as a Valentine's Day delivery driver for Winston Flowers in Boston, MA. It was love at first sight and within a few weeks he left his full time job and Brad's career as a floral designer blossomed shortly after. Brad aspires to one day become an AIFD accredited designer and just recently started Harrington Flowers LLC in Derry, NH.
